Microchip Sale! $25.

Did you know between six and eight million pets enter animal shelters throughout the United States each year? Without identification, 90 percent of these pets will not return home. A Microchip is a permanent form of identification.

The procedure for implantation is simple and very similar to receiving a routine vaccination. A chip, about the size of a grain of rice, is implanted between the pet's shoulder blades just below the skin. The process takes a few seconds and no anesthetic is required.

FREE Pet ID Card

East-West Animal Hospital instituted Wellness Programs to help you budget for your pet's annual care. These NEW programs bundle the necessary wellness preventatives and screenings that all pets require to keep them healthy. There are no hidden costs or co-payments and price is locked in for one year. Currently if you subscribe to a Wellness plan you also get an awesome pet ID.

This Package will save you $230 or more over the standard cost and offers superior Veterinary wellness screenings and preventive care for your pets! No more stressing over that monthly dosing with NEW Pro-heart 6 and Seresto preventatives! An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure!

Pet of the Month

Conan

My name is Conan I'm a red headed comedian kitty. I have a littermate brother that mom chose and the rescue mom asked if I could go with him. We are rather mixed up Manx and Siamese. Mom likes Manx kitties. We were rescued from one of those mill places that breed hybrids. I overheard my rescuer talking to Mom; I knew I had to win her over. I told brother to lie in the back of the cage and I would take care of it. When she opened the cage, I was first out to love her up. She drove all the way from Tampa to Crystal River to meet us and brought us home where we've spoiled her rotten. You ought to see me in action. I take pills out of her hand when I am sick. My favorite way to help though is to lay with my brother on her arms and the key board and purr lovely songs while she writes papers. She is a nurse, working on her PhD in health psychology so she needs lots of purring and comedy

A member of our team will then register your pet's unique identification number along with your contact information into a national pet recovery database.

HomeAgain® helps reunite over 10,000 pets with their families every month (www.homeagain.com).

If your pet is already microchipped, registration with HomeAgain is only $17.99!

Parvovirus

Preventable virus that is life threatening to puppies

Canine parvovirus is an acute, highly contagious disease of dogs that was first described in the early 1970s. The virus has a tendency to attack rapidly reproducing cells, such as those lining the gastrointestinal tract.

Parvovirus

The virus is shed in large amounts in the stools of acutely infected dogs for up to several weeks following infection. The disease is transmitted by oral contact with infected feces.

Parvo can be carried on the dog's hair and feet, as well as on contaminated crates, shoes, and other objects. When the dog licks the fecal material off hair, feet, or anything that came in contact with infected feces, he acquires the disease.

Parvo affects dogs of all ages, but most cases occur in puppies 6 to 20 weeks of age.
